POULTRY EXHIBIT

Big Show Arranged for December Next.

A meeting of the Hawaii Poultry Association was held last night in the office of the Fisher, Ables Co., there being a large and enthusiastic attendance.

The report of a committee was submitted, embodying the rules and regulations to govern an exhibition of feathered stock to be held on December 7, 8, 9.

There is every outlook for a highly successful show and entries all along the line promise to be numerous.

The society is in very flourishing condition and many new members are in sight.

One point which was raised at the meeting was whether the judge at the proposed exhibition should be a local man or one brought from the mainland. The matter has been left to the board of directors.

A special meeting has been called for next Tuesday evening, which all members of the association are earnestly requested to attend. At this meeting details of the show will be arranged.

A large and well lighted hall has been leased for the show and there will be sufficient room to accommodate very many birds in single coops.

The Hawaiian Poultry Association will have its own exhibition coops at the show.

A cordial invitation is extended to all fanciers of poultry to send in exhibits. The rules of the exhibition will be as follows:

All premiums, general and special, are open to general competition. Entries will close on December 5.

The entry fee for poultry is $1.00 per single specimen; trios, $1.50; breeding pens, $2.00.

Entries must be made on blanks furnished by the secretary.

A competent superintendent will be in charge and stock will be fed and properly cared for.

Each specimen must be entered in the name of the actual owner.

Should birds be entered and not shown, the fees for same will be forfeited to the association.

Exhibitors whose entry fee amounts to $3.00 or more will be furnished a season admission ticket.

No bird will be allowed to compete in more than one coop and no bird shall be judged but once.

Admission to the exhibition will be 50c. adults and 25c. children.

Judging will be by comparison, the judges being unaware of the ownership of the stock receiving their attention.

Prizes will consist of 1st, blue ribbon; 2nd, red ribbon; 3rd, pink ribbon; and 4th, yellow ribbon, accompanied by a diploma issued by the president and secretary of the association.

A breeding pen shall consist of one male and four females.

Judging will commence at 8 a. m. on the day of opening.

Birds shipped from a distance will be allowed credit for weight of 1-4 pound.

The exhibition hall will be open for reception of exhibits at 9 a. m., two days previous to the opening of the show.

Fowls on exhibition will be in the exclusive custody of the superintendent from the time they reach the exhibition until the show closes and can not be removed from the hall until the show is over.

The classification will be as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.

Class 1—American.

White, Buff, Barred and Pea-combed Barred Plymouth Rocks; Silver, White, Buff, Silver Pencilled, Golden and Partridge Wyandottes; American Dominiques, Black, Mottled and White Javas; S. C. and R. C. Rhode Island Reds.

Class 2—Asiatics.

Light, Buff and Dark Brahmas; White, Buff, Partridge and Black Cochins; White and Black Langshans.

Class 3—Mediterraneans.

BULLETIN'S CIRCULATION

Two Tons of It Sold to a Chinese Yesterday.

"I've seen a circulation go up," said the old journalist, "and I've seen a circulation slump down, but I'm jiggered if I ever before saw one shift to the southwest of a town."

The speaker was standing in Bulletin Alley along about the middle of yesterday morning, watching the operations of a drayman in the direct rear of the office of the Bulletin.

Large doings were on hand and the drayman perspired copiously as he loaded his vehicle six feet high with copies of the Diurnal Bleat, dating from a week to a month or so ago.

And as he toiled the sad-eyed staff of the Bulletin looked on and lowed their lamentations.

The dray was loaded in due course and proceeded down King street in the direction of the fish-market.

Ere long another dray drew up at the Bleat's back door and the operation hereinabove described was repeated, each time gaily colored Saturday pictorial supplements being in particular evidence.

And the staff still stood at the door and chewed the cud of mournful reflection.

"And yet," said a hackman on the 290 stand, "the Bulletin boasts of its circulation and publishes affidavits of daily sales which are way up in the clouds. Well, hereafter, I'm from Missouri and you've got to show me."

During the evening the old journalist and the hackman met again at the 290 stand.

"Say," said the newspaperman, "this takes the cake. I've been looking into this paper-shifting matter and it's a fright. What do you think?"

"Wing Lo Hong at the fish-market told me this afternoon that he had purchased two tons of recent Bulletins for $40. That was his junk that we saw going away on the drays. He uses them in his business and retails them at so much per pound to all the other fish vendors in the market."

"There's a pretty sort of circulation for you to deceive advertisers with. Total circulation for the week forty-five hundred and a half! Well, there's tricks in all trades, but you have to come to Honolulu for the latest wrinkles."

The two tons of Bulletins, as already said, were purchased for $40 by Wing Lo Hong and remained last night in the house of Lo's friend, on the mauka end of Maunakea street. Today they will be brought, all or in part, to the fish-market.

And that's the way circulations are juggled with in Honolulu.

What price "true and correct statements of circulation" hereafter?

Five thousand to one.

And no takers.

Moo-o-o-o!

"THE SERENADE" IS A MEMORY

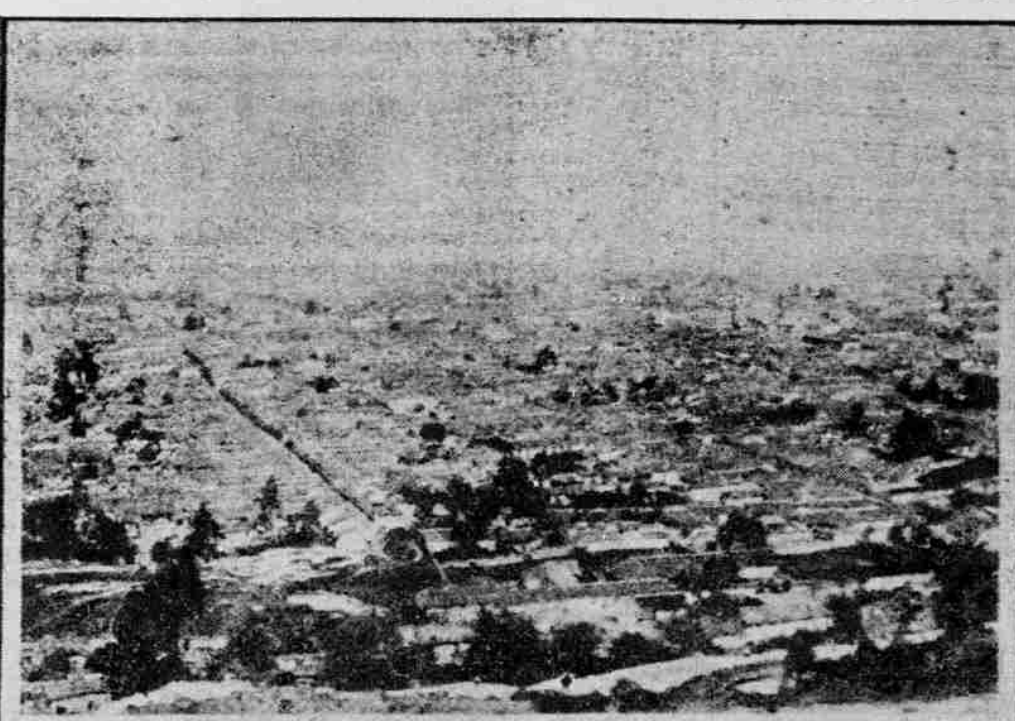

"The Serenade" was repeated last night with the same success as at the first two performances, but to a much smaller audience. However, the same interest was manifested in the production as last week.

The production, in some respects, went better than it did last week. The singing throughout was excellent and the chorus was in fine voice. The principals could hardly be improved upon, and "The Serenade" cast will pass into local amateur history as one of the best ever brought together.

ROOSEVELT II.

Theodore Roosevelt has filed an application in the district court of Omaha to be admitted to citizenship in the United States. He was a subject of Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria, and served in the Austrian army. He was in President Roosevelt's Rough Rider regiment. Living now in the sand hills of Western Nebraska, he wants to become a citizen so he may file a claim on some government lands in Cherry County.—The Argonaut.

REVOLUTION IN COLOMBIA AND REYES IS DICTATOR

BOGOTA, THE COLOMBIAN CAPITOL.

ESCAPED FROM GUARD

Felix Torres Captured in the Nuuanu Stream.

Felix Torres, a Porto Rican prisoner, escaped about 12:30 yesterday noon from a prison gang working in the new park off Nuuanu street above Kuaikini road, and two hours later he was captured in Nuuanu stream back of Mark Robinson's residence.

It was during lunch time when Torres took it in to his head to be free. He walked away from the gang, but as prisoners often do this while working around the parks, the guard did not pay much attention. However, when he saw Torres keep on walking and placing too much distance between him and the camp, the guard called to him to stop. Torres sprinted and ran up Nuuanu valley. The alarm was given and a search was immediately begun. At last the searchers found Torres hiding in the stream. He put up a feeble fight, but was overpowered and taken to Oahu prison.

At the time of his capture he wore only his blue trousers and undershirt. He had gotten rid of his coat, hat and shoes.

Torres had already served about seven months of a ten months' sentence.

NOT RESIDENCE BUT BARN BURNS

For two hours last night the big barn of Tam Pong back of Camp McKinley was the center of attraction to the curious. It got on fire at 9 o'clock and ten minutes later a telephone message from Kaimuki to Assistant Fire Chief Deering informed him that the splendid house of Mrs. Mary Hendricks Prime was burning. Engine No. 3 was quickly ordered out of the Maki station and Chief Thurston himself went to the scene. It was found on arrival at Kaimuki that it was not the Prime residence, but a barn 40x60, set back in the banana plantation in from Camp McKinley. This did its best as a conflagration, however, and took two hours to burn down, making a fine display. Chief Thurston estimates the loss at $400 or $500 with no insurance.

COUNTY PRISONERS.

High Sheriff Henry was informed yesterday by Attorney General Lorrin Andrews that it is the duty of county officials to execute sentences of court by delivering prisoners to the proper jail without expense to the Territory. On receipt of the Attorney General's communication High Sheriff Henry sent a wireless to Jailor Mabie at South Hilo to turn the boy over to the county sheriff, failing this, to discharge him forthwith.

STARVED AND MALTREATED

No Law to Protect a Child From Injury.

At yesterday's meeting of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Ryder told a story of depravity in the slums of Kakaako which fairly chilled her auditors. It was the story of a Hawaiian woman's brutish treatment of a little child, whose parents had died. The little one had never been adopted, but was merely added to the foster mother's family. From the time it came into new hands, the child suffered through lack of food, beatings and generally cruel treatment. On any occasion the woman would beat the child and it seldom had anything like a square meal a day. Mrs. Ryder sought out the little one and when it whimpered that it would go with her, the woman deliberately gave it another beating.

One day Mrs. Ryder found the child weak and emaciated and in almost the throes of starvation. After many pleadings with the woman, Mrs. Ryder took the child to a restaurant, but the woman came in and so terrified the child, that it was barely able to gulp down the glass of milk that had been provided. Mrs. Ryder sought the police, Judge Whitney and others to learn what might be done, but found there was no law for the protection of children. Soon after this the woman beat the child so that it swooned. Mrs. Ryder then took it out to the Hospital for Incurables, where it died the same night.

This was a sample of the scenes which Mrs. Ryder said she frequently had to face.

Mrs. Whitney announced that the next meeting of the W. C. T. U. would be held in October at her residence, it being the annual meeting when reports for the year would be read.

A letter from the national treasurer was read announcing the national convention to be held in Los Angeles from October 27 to November 1.

Mrs. Terry of Hilo spoke interestingly of the union work in the Rainy City.

One member said that the Civic Federation would probably take up the question of protection for children and might introduce a bill in the next legislature to that end.

Mrs. Whitney said she had hopes of the Juvenile Court being established in Honolulu. She said that there were already probation officers who were looking after children who had come before the police judge, and then were given over to the surveillance of such officers, until time came when it was deemed proper to allow them to pursue the even tenor of their way. Among such officers were Lyle Dicke, Mr. Turner, Mr. Ryder, a Catholic priest and a lady prominent in benevolent work.

President of Republic Puts Judges in Prison—Bloodshed Reported.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

PANAMA, September 20.—It is reported here that General Reyes has assumed the dictatorship of Colombia and that the Supreme Court has been imprisoned. A mob is said to have attacked the palace, but to have been beaten back by troops with heavy loss.

Raphael Reyes, general, statesman, intriguer and, on President Marroquin's retirement, President of the United States of Colombia, has been mixed in every revolution that has wracked that much disturbed country. He is a man of education and ability, but bears the reputation of being open to financial arguments. He has been thought very favorable to American interests, however, he having supported the secession party in Panama. If the reports of the present coup d'etat are correct the party opposed to the independence of Panama may be expected to cause great trouble.

General Reyes was a peace commissioner in November, 1903, to the United States from Colombia.
